Program Disclosures

Does the program or institution require students, trainees, and/or staff (faculty) to comply with specific policies or practices related to the institution's affiliation or purpose? Such policies or practices may include, but are not limited to, admissions, hiring, retention policies, and/or requirements for completion that express mission and values?	☐ Yes ☑ No

If yes, provide website link (or content from brochure) where this specific information is presented:

The program is offered as (check both options if separate programs are available in each format):	☑Primarily in person ☐Primarily distance education

Describe resources and facilities. If distance education is utilized, specify the types of learning technologies required:

The Michigan School of Psychology is located in Farmington Hills, Michigan and has a two building campus. The buildings include classrooms, a library, study space, a small lecture hall, and a on-campus psychology clinic that serves the community. On campus, students have access to printing, laptops, library resources, smart TVs in the classrooms, wifi, and other things that meet their needs. At home, students still have access to the online learning platform Moodle and their student record portal Empower, which includes billing and financial aid information. There is additionally a lot of resources listed on the MSP website at www.msp.edu.

If both program options are available, describe any differences in admissions, resources, or facilities available for each program:

Full-time Equivalent Faculty per Student Ratio:	1:19

Describe admissions criteria and process to ensure preparation for graduate study:

The Admissions Committee looks for a candidate's demonstration of exceptional ability in professional background or training. Applicant credentials are evaluated as a composite on the basis of all information submitted in the admission process. The following criteria are necessary for consideration:
a bachelor's degree from an accredited institution; a major in psychology, social work, counseling, or demonstrated equivalent*; and an undergraduate GPA of 2.5 or higher on a 4.0 scale is preferred.
In addition, relevant field experience in mental health service is desirable.

*Applicants who do not meet the requirement for the major may be considered by submitting official or unofficial transcripts demonstrating successful completion of approved Introduction to Psychology, Abnormal Psychology, and Developmental Psychology courses. Grades of 3.0 or better must be earned in these three courses.
If your GPA is below the preference of 2.5 or higher, contact the Director of Admissions, Kinsey, at ktekiele@msp.edu for additional steps in the admissions process.

Applications are reviewed after receipt of all required documents. Individuals who meet all admission criteria may be invited for an interview. Upon completion of the interview, the Admissions Committee will make a decision about acceptance to the program. Please review the deadline and interview dates here.
